IPFA

Climate Resilient Infrastructure & the Transition to Low Carbon Energy

Global Countdown to COP26 webinar recorded on Tuesday 2 November 2021

Key takeaways

- Finance is key to a successful transition
- A whole systems approach is needed to catalyze the scale of change needed.
- Investors needs more transparency in their investment decisions
- Tools and guidelines (such as TCFD) needed
- A total value approach is needed bringing together social (equity), economic and environmental consideration
- We need to embrace uncertainty and be adaptive to change
- Technology will enable the transition but should not be solely relied upon
